Crystal Sphere

Mystarspace's crystal sphere lies the normal distance from the star, roughly twice as far out from the sun as the last planet.

The 7th planet of the sphere rotates in a strange pattern, slightly above and below the plane of orbits of the other celestial bodies.

Mystarspace is unlike other spheres; it gets extremely cold and ships have a more difficult time retaining atmosphere above decks.

Mystarspace's second world, in which the sphere is named after, is hollow. The interior of this planet is populated with several different cultures.

The planet sits at twenty-four degree tilt. In addition, the planet has two moons.

Mystarspace is located beyond the normal flows of Arcane space. It is considered too remote for regular visits by the Arcane, Imperial Elven Navy, or other major multi-sphere powers.

Mystarspace is not home to powers (or gods) as is common in other spheres. The faithful of Mystaran religions refer to their powers as immortals. Some of these 'immortals' share very similar traits and qualities with the powers (or gods) of other crystal spheres.
